THE SUREST ROAD TO WEALTH IS THROUGH LIBERAL ADVERTISING

CONVENTION CALL.

The Republican Electors of Pennsylvania: After consultation and correspondence with members of the Republican State Committee, in which direction, I hereby give notice that the electors of Pennsylvania, by their duly authorized representatives, will meet in State Convention at Harrisburg, Wednesday, August 19, at 10 o'clock A. M., for the purpose of placing in nomination candidates for the offices of President and Auditor General, for the election of 1892, and for the transaction of such other business as may be presented.

Notice is especially directed to the fact that, in accordance with the provisions of the last amended act, each Senatorial district is entitled to representation of three delegates to said Convention, two of whom only can be members of the majority party in said district. Electors of each district are therefore requested to make proper nominations for delegates to said convention, the rules governing the nomination of candidates for State Senator to be applicable.

In this connection the Chairman desires to call attention of Republican voters to the recommendation of the State Convention of 1882, that you allow the greatest freedom in the general nomination in the primaries consistent with preservation of the party organization.

WM. H. ANDREWS, Chairman.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

EXAMINING BOARD.

Two Shenandoah Appointments by the Court.

Judge Porsching has appointed the following persons as members of the Miners' Examining Board for the districts named, in pursuance of the Act of Assembly, May 9, 1888:

Fifth district—For the term of three years, Edward M. Coyle, Mahanoy City; William Senger, Shenandoah, David Williams, Wm. Penn; for one year, John H. Reese, Shenandoah, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Daniel Hughes.

Sixth district—For the term of three years, Martin Purcell, Shamokin; Philip Mangold, Locust Gap; Joseph Fyfe, Girardville.

Seventh district—For the term of three years, Timothy Carroll, St. Clair; William Shorall, Forestville; David G. Thompson, Tower City.

These appointments take effect from the first day of August, 1891. Before entering upon the duties of his appointment each appointee must file with the Prothonotary an affidavit averring the facts necessary to qualify him for appointment under the provisions of the Act of Assembly.

From the Seaside Capital.

CAPE MAY, N. J., Aug. 3.—President Harrison and Postmaster-General Wansbaker attended services yesterday at the old Brick Church, Cold Spring, where the Rev. W. E. Stewart, of Allegheny City, preached. Bishop Scarborough, diocese of New Jersey, took supper with President Harrison. Russell B. Harrison and George W. Boyd dined with Congressman Keyburn.

Arrested for Drowning a Boy.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Aug. 3.—Paul Latniski, a little boy of 8 years, was drowned in the Mississippi River in this city last night. It is claimed that Frank Ratnisky, aged 12, pulled the boy into the river and held him under water until he was drowned, and Ratnisky has been arrested. He declares that the Latniski boy was intoxicated, and claims that he was trying to teach the little fellow how to swim.

Three Children Poisoned.

BOSTON, Aug. 3.—Joseph, Annie and Fred Willard, aged respectively 18, 13 and 11 years, living at No. 307 Federal street, were poisoned yesterday by eating canned salmon. They were taken to the hospital, where their condition is pronounced serious.

A Little Girl Killed by the Cars.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Aug. 3.—Barbara Kell, aged 8 years, was killed at Olis, a suburban station of this city, by a Central train during the morning. The child was trying to escape from one train and ran in front of another, which cut her in two.

Farmer Burned to Death.

FITCHBURG, Mass., Aug. 3.—A barn on the city farm was burned during the morning and Frank Miller, head farmer, was burned to death while trying to save the horses and cattle.

IT WAS A FIZZLE.

THE MEETING THAT DID NOT MEET.

THE TOWN TO BE FENCED IN.

Shenandoah's Boasted Enterprise Has Taken Wings and Flown Away—The Old Fogies Must Go.

The meeting that was called, through the solicitation of several of our prominent citizens, for last Friday evening, for the purpose of forming a Board of Trade in town, proved to be what we partly anticipated, a complete failure—in fact, there was no meeting held. One or two of those whose names appeared in these columns on Thursday in this connection, appeared at the hotel in the course of the evening, looked in through the windows, and then solemnly and quietly meandered up the street, with the feeling that they had faithfully performed their duty as public-spirited citizens. Others claimed the notice was too short, not giving sufficient time in which to prepare themselves for this grand event and procure the dress suit which should be worn on all occasions when grave matters of state are to be considered. Then, again, there were a few who could not resist the fascinations for the pleasurable sport for a few hours in favor of their fellow-townsmen and the borough's future prosperity, while there were others whose industry compelled them to devote themselves on this particular occasion to garden-making by moonlight.

With all these varied and unforeseen obstacles in the way of the formation of a Board of Trade, the result is not to be wondered at. The HERALD has devoted considerable space to the discussion of this question, and justly feels that the failure was not due to any lack of interest on its part. Can those citizens, who it is but natural to assume should take the initiative in such matters, say the same? We leave the solution of that question to their own conscience and their fellow townsmen.

The boasted enterprise and prating about helping along this and that industry for a start in the industrial line that has been frequently indulged in by some of our business men and property owners, seems to have consisted more of wind than anything else. We have tried to find some tangible excuse that could be offered for the inactivity exhibited by many of our leading citizens, but have utterly failed. The whole truth of the matter can be summed up in the one word—jealousy. And why there should be any cause for one citizen to be jealous of another in this matter we cannot see. All our citizens, both the capitalist and the laboring man, will be equally benefited by the location of manufacturing industries in our midst. All will reap a proportionate share of the benefits to be derived therefrom—the moneyed man will receive their percentage on the capital invested, and the laboring class will be furnished means whereby they can earn a livelihood for themselves and those dependent upon them.

We are lead to the conclusion that Shenandoah, so far as manufacturing industries are concerned, is entirely dependent upon the tenure of life granted the obstructionists and cheap tenement owners that this town is burdened with. We must confess that the prospects are anything but bright, under these circumstances, for the largest town in the county becoming the leading manufacturing centre, for as a general thing the average tenement owner is vested with a long lease of life. So long as the moneyed men refuse to lend their aid it is useless to agitate the matter any longer.

We have been requested to call another meeting, but have decided not to do so, believing that our efforts would be rewarded in this case as in previous ones. While we refuse to take the responsibility of calling another meeting, yet our columns are always open for such a notice from any number of our citizens with their signatures attached. Our object in forming a Board of Trade is from no selfish motive. We are desirous of seeing our citizens take advantage of the opportunities offered them and reap the benefits. For we believe, notwithstanding the opposition that may be met with from a coterie of obstructionists, that foreign capitalists, recognizing the great advantages of this town as a manufacturing centre, will eventually locate here and reap the benefits. The HERALD, as in the past, is in favor of any movement that will enlarge opportunity for business, increase the volume of production and trade, and give the town a standing in this respect to which its advantages justly entitle it.

Put the obstructionists to the rear, and bring the live and public-spirited citizens to the front.

Progress.

It is very important in this age of vast material progress that a remedy be pleasing to the taste and to the eye, easily taken, acceptable to the stomach and healthy in its nature and effects. Possessing these qualities, Syrup of Figs is the one perfect laxative and most gentle diuretic known.

"VOYAGE OF LIFE"

Rev. Powick's Sermon in the M. E. Church Yesterday.

The eighth sermon of the series on the "Voyage of Life" was delivered in the Methodist Episcopal church last evening. It was devoted to a consideration of "The Pastime." The question often raised: "How do you pass the time away during a sea voyage?" was answered by an account of the forms of amusement, and the extent of gambling and drunkenness which are indulged in. Extensive and entertaining lectures, sermons, etc., by the passengers break up the monotony.

This raised the question of the pastimes of life. Emphasis was laid upon the fact that spare time is the character-making period of life. Spare moments are part of the precious stuff of which life is made. Yet it seems to be a burden to some. Many constitutional grumblers are waiting better opportunities than many millionaires had when they laid the foundation of their princely fortunes. So the present character and future destiny hangs to a large extent upon the use men make of spare time.

Man is not a mere machine to be kept in perpetual motion—he needs rest and change to recuperate his wasted energies. But the epidemic of vacation shows that in many instances a vacation is only the exchange of busy idleness at home for fashionable dissipation abroad. But to many persons there is no alternative between being a piece of perpetual motion and a mere baby that needs to be amused. From the imperious demand that is made for merely time-killing amusements we might think that the chief end of man is to find some easy and congenial method of "killing time." Such paltry conceptions of life and its responsibilities give rise to the various forms of pleasure that antagonize the spiritual life of the church, that give support to the Sunday newspaper. The clamor for open exhibitions and museums on Sunday comes, however, not from the toiling masses but from the godless rich. The general principles were laid down for the guidance of his hearers in these matters: 1.—Of what moral ideas is the particular thing under consideration the exponent. 2.—What sort of character it is to produce in its devotees. 3.—What good is there in it? The subject next Sunday night will be "The Storm."

PERSONAL

John Snyder, of Pottsville, was a visitor to town on Saturday.

Mrs. Garrett McKernan spent Saturday in Pottsville visiting her son.

Mrs. Gibson, of Philadelphia, spent Sunday in town with relatives.

Robert Binning and wife will leave for the far West in a few days.

C. Bowman is attending the Grand Army Encampment at Detroit, Michigan.

Mrs. H. A. Swain was the guest of relatives at Mahanoy City over Sunday.

Charles Borchelt and wife, of Reading are visiting the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Oliver.

B. F. Landis, the hustling North Main street news agent, took a flying trip to Hazleton this morning.

John Pratt, formerly of town, but now a resident of Philadelphia, is spending a few days in town with his parents.

Rev. Dr. Ballyville, of Pottsville, preached in the Presbyterian church yesterday morning and evening to large congregations.

Win. Van Danaker and wife, of Philadelphia, were the guests of Councilman Holman, Mrs. Van Danaker's brother, over Sunday.

J. M. Duncan and family, of Williamsport, were the guests over Sunday of their former friend and pastor, Rev. Wm. Powick.

M. Roland and Charles Crawford, of Philadelphia, are the guests of John Housenick, the enterprising hat and cap manufacturer of town.

Miss Mary Morgan, of town, clerk in Royers' store, Pottsville, left this morning for Fishkill-on-the-Hudson, at which place she will spend her vacation.

J. Claude Keiper, clerk in the War Department, at Washington, accompanied by his wife and brother Guy, are spending several weeks with the parents of the former in town.

9 Per Cent. Below.

The following collation drawn to return prices of coal for month of July, 1891, to determine the rate of wages to be paid, make the following returns:

Mahanoy City colliery, P. & B. C. & I. Co. $2.22 1/2

Bar Run do do 2.25 1/2

East do do 2.30 1/2

Richardson do do 2.25 1/2

Ohio do do 2.18 1/2

11.77 1/2

The average of these prices is $2.23 1/2 and the rate of wages to be paid for last two weeks of July and the first two weeks of August, 1891, is nine (9) per cent. below the $2.50 basis.

How Democrats Love Them (?)

The Republicans beg for harmony with a big H at Tuesday's convention. The way to get that is to lock the door before Philip, Finney, Boyer and the rest of the gang get in town.—Democratic Chronicle

Gured to Pieces.

ARKANSAS CITY, Kan., Aug. 3.—A report reached here from the Cherokee country that near the Neosho River four people were got to death by Texas cattle. A woman and two little children were first attacked and torn to pieces. A cowboy who attempted to rescue them was thrown from his horse and instantly killed.

This month will be the time to watch for the August meteors.

VETERANS MEET.

ANNUAL ENCAMPMENT OF THE GRAND ARMY AT DETROIT.

THE PROGRAMME FOR THE WEEK

The Parade To-morrow to Eclipse All Former Gatherings—Reunion of the Famous Third Light Brigade.

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 3.—The parade of the veterans to-morrow promises to be the grandest display ever made by the Grand Army. In numbers and equipments it is expected to go beyond any that have been held in other years. The Illinois veterans have been assigned the right of the line, and will follow the commander-in-chief and staff. The programme of the encampment is as follows:

Reception of guests to-day.

Tuesday—Parade of U. S. A. R. naval veterans and Sons of Veterans at 10:30 a. m. at B. p. m., reception and greeting to Commander-in-Chief Veazy and members of the U. S. A. R. Sons of Veterans and Women's Relief Corps at the Detroit Hotel; 9 p. m., reception at Camp Sherman to the commander-in-chief and veterans of the U. S. A. R.

Wednesday—10:30 a. m. twenty-fifth annual session of the National Encampment, U. S. A. R., at Beecher's Hall; ninth annual convention of the Women's Relief Corps at the Church of Our Father.

In the evening there will be a grand musical and pyrotechnic display. There will also be camp fires at the risk, at the exposition building and at the Central Methodist Episcopal Church.

Thursday—10 a. m. adjourned session of the twenty-fifth annual encampment at the risk. In the evening there will be a banquet at the risk to the officers and delegates to the National Encampment. There will be camp fires at Camp Sherman and at the churches.

Friday.—Riding about the city, excursions to various river and lake resorts, etc., at will.

The survivors of the famous Third Light Brigade of the First Division of the Fifth Army Corps will hold a reunion on Wednesday with the Sixteenth Michigan volunteers. This was Gen. Butterfield's brigade, which had the honor to be detailed to receive the surrender of Gen. Lee's army at Appomattox. The national convention of the ex-prisoners of war will be held on Aug. 5 in the common council chamber, and the National Association of Naval Veterans will hold their reunion in the court house on Wednesday.

On the same day there will be a reunion of army and navy musicians who served during the war. All who were in brigade or regimental bands and those who served as buglers, fifers or drummers, whether they have made music a profession since the war or not, are invited to attend.

Two Interesting Contests.

The features of this and every other encampment are the election of a commander-in-chief and the selection of a place for the next meeting. The latter is, however, settled beyond much doubt, the boys from the Potomac Department at Washington having ridden rough shod over all opposition and conquered for the national city. The choice of commander-in-chief is not so surely settled. Weisert, of Wisconsin, and Hedges, the New Yorker, are running a close race.

A PRINCELY GIFT.

A Newport Protestant Endows a Roman Catholic School.

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 3.—At the dedication of St. Joseph's Roman Catholic school Bishop Harkins made public the fact that Mr. George Babcock Hazard of Newport had generously paid the entire cost, giving the magnificent sum of $30,000. The Bishop christened the new building the Hazard Memorial School.

The affair has caused a profound sensation. Mr. Hazard being a Protestant, he comes of one of the oldest Newport families.

Killed Her New-Born Babe.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 3.—The body of a newly born child, with its throat cut, was found in an outhouse on Hartville street during the day. A search of the neighborhood brought to light the mother of the child, Jane Potter, a 16-year-old girl, who kept house for her father, a widower. The girl admitted the child was hers and that the father was George Higgins, a railroad man. She was not questioned further, on account of weakness, but was sent to the hospital under police surveillance. It is supposed she cut the infant's throat with a pair of scissors. The father was also arrested.

Covered With Burning Oil.

NEWARK, N. J., Aug. 3.—Edward Secor, of Jersey City, a fireman on the steamer Joanna, was asleep on the boat early this morning when a lantern hanging over his head fell and exploded. He was covered with burning oil and ran shrieking about the deck. The hands on the steamer Newark heard his cries and extinguished the flames by throwing him overboard. Secor was taken to the City Hospital. He is badly injured.

Gured to Pieces.

ARKANSAS CITY, Kan., Aug. 3.—A report reached here from the Cherokee country that near the Neosho River four people were got to death by Texas cattle. A woman and two little children were first attacked and torn to pieces. A cowboy who attempted to rescue them was thrown from his horse and instantly killed.

This month will be the time to watch for the August meteors.

THE PRIMARIES.

The Result in the Five Wards of Town.

The Republicans of this county held their primaries on Saturday. There were few contests, if any, outside of Shenandoah. Here everything was harmonious and the delegates and committeemen elected are as follows:

First Ward—Delegates, A. E. L. Leckie, Charles T. Gibson; Alternates, William Gunn, Harry P. Mellor; Committee, John W. Hesser, John W. Barton; Alternates, Harry Bishop, A. E. L. Leckie.

Second Ward—Delegates, M. H. Kahler, Fred H. Hopkins, Sr.; Alternates, John F. Finney, Jacob Bamberger; Committee, John F. Finney, John H. Evans; Alternates, H. C. Boyer, F. H. Hopkins, Sr.

Third Ward—Delegates, James S. Williams, H. E. Dangler; Alternates, Benj. Beecher, W. J. Jacob; Committee, David Morgan, John G. Thomas; Alternates, Wm. Gilliam, Evan J. Davies.

Fourth Ward—Delegates, M. P. Fowler, Lewis Lohr; Alternates, James J. Powell, Thomas Butz; Committee, Daniel J. Williams, William Jones; Alternates, Edward Hughes, George Garbell.

Fifth Ward—Delegates, William Detrey, Chris. Foltz; Alternates, Wm. Bachman, John L. Hassler; Committee, John L. Schenck, John L. Hassler; Alternates, Frank Bock, William Detrey.

POLITICAL POINTS.

The absence of contest and of bitter feeling which characterized the Republican primaries on Saturday shows that the time is ripe for the cementing of all the factions of the party in Schuylkill county into one harmonious and united body. Wise action by to-morrow's convention will achieve this most desirable result and signalize the beginning of a new and successful era in the history of Schuylkill county Republicanism. For years the party has only had to combat its internal broils and nominate decent candidates in order to have attracted sufficient outside support to elect its tickets. It has, however, unfortunately time after time disgusted independent Democrats who had announced their dissatisfaction with their own nominees and their intention to vote for any competent Republicans by selecting the worst possible moral, and at the same time taking such action as offended the best Republican sentiment and opened up anew factional rows. The Republican county convention meets in Pottsville to-morrow. Everything points to a harmonious meeting and the nomination of a strong ticket.—Miner's Journal.

The following resolution, which was adopted by the Delaware County Republican Convention, Thursday, is evidence sufficient that Hon. John R. Robinson continues to retain the confidence of his party in that county, notwithstanding the dashed attempts of the Philadelphia Press and other rule or rule organs to overthrow him through mud-slinging and other questionable means:

"The Republicans of Delaware county, in county meeting assembled, desire to put on record their respect for the reputation and ability of their State Senator and Congressman-elect, Hon. John R. Robinson, and in the face of outside assaults made upon him showing personal malice, he retains the undiminished regard of this constituency, who approve of his official acts and commend him to the young Republicans of the state as a faithful friend, an able man and an unflinching Republican."

It is a complete answer to those mud-slingers, and the Press should now devote its energies toward cleaning the political atmosphere of Philadelphia.

Union Meetings.

The three branches of Methodism viz. The Methodist Episcopal, the Primitive Methodist and Evangelical churches have made arrangements for the holding of union gospel meetings on the premises of Mr. Baird at the corner of Line and Main streets. The meetings will begin on Monday evening Aug. 10, and continue one week. Preaching every night by one of the pastors. The service will be preceded by a service of song each evening beginning at seven o'clock.
